Supplementary figure 1
Correlation analysis performed in arm B to evaluate association between baseline inflammatory status and survival after vaccination. Panel a shows the linear correlation between baseline lymphocyte count and patients’ OS. Panel b evidences the differences between different baseline clinical laboratory parameters associated with inflammation in patients surviving more or less than 5 months (median OS of the group).