Online Resource 15 – Dispersion of morphological traits along the altitudinal gradient.

Figure 1. Relationships of the palms trait distribution against the altitudinal gradient at Ducke Reserve. Positive SES values indicate that a given trait is clustered, while negative values indicate that an area has species with dissimilar traits (overdispersion). The dashed lines represent the significance limit with a p-value of 0.05.