Figure 4: Illustration of the image patches on which the SIFT features are extracted. We extract local features on regular patches on the images where the radius and spacing of the regular patches are set to 16 pixels.