Linkage disequilibrium plot for a simplified haplotype block structure.

LD plot for a simplified haplotype block structure. LD (linkage disequilibrium) is revealed through the matrix of pairwise dependences between genetic markers. For a pair of SNPs, the color shade is all the darker as the dependence between the two SNPs is high.