User chooses the Data File to be loaded.

User selects the classes for each sample by clicking on data table.

Allele frequencies for each probe are calculated and shown to the user.

Results are calculated.

User selects the Statistical Test and may visualize distribution.

Results are shown to the user. He may visualize annotations and links to external databases.