Figure 6

The figure shows a plot of average true positive rate against average false positive rate. The x-axis represents the average false positive rate, while the y-axis shows the average true positive rate. The graph includes data points at various velocities, indicated by markers at positions 25, 5, 2, 45, 50, and 100.