Sequence logos for the Fnr (a), ArcA (b) and NarP (c) binding sites

Horizontal axis, position in the binding site; vertical axis, information content in bits. The height of each column is proportional to the positional information content in the given position; the height of each individual symbol reflects its prevalence in the given position.