Figure A shows a histological image, with markers indicating regions of interest. Figure B displays data on apoptosis scores for saline and vitamin B6 treatments over time (0h, 18h, 24h). The graph shows a significant difference in apoptosis scores between the two groups. Figure C illustrates the change in NAD+ concentration over the same time period, with vitamin B6 showing a trend of increasing NAD+ levels, while saline remains relatively constant.