Figure 2: The admission process of maternity care in Fayazbakhsh hospital in before (left) and after (right) introduction of the new model of care.

In the new model an evidence-based recommendation, admission in labor phase, as well as some of the maternal requirements, mother and baby well-being, frequent monitoring, and labor education, have been introduced into the process.