The charts illustrate the proportion of mortality by age and type of disease in the public and private sectors.

In the public sector, the highest proportion of mortality is due to HIV/AIDS, followed by respiratory infections, tuberculosi,

In the private sector, the highest proportion of mortality is due to HIV/AIDS, followed by cardiovascular diseases, malignant conditions, and digestive diseases.