Figure 6

The graph shows the cumulative HIV prevalence and current estimated prevalence across different age groups. The cumulative prevalence rises sharply from 15-19 to 35-39, peaks at 40-44, and then declines gradually. The current estimated prevalence follows a similar trend but peaks slightly higher in the 40-44 age group.