If people have money, this is where a lot of it will go to...the liquor store. Many of them have addictions and food is not important when they have money. Some of them will put their money together so they can get something from the liquor store then share it.