What we choose to eat or what we can only afford to eat…It has a direct effect on our health. We end up putting our lives and health at our own risk. When we eat too much junk food, we end up having to get medicine at the drug store. Traditional medicine should be taught more