Figure A

A molecular model showing the structure of a protein complex.

Figure B

Another angle of the molecular model, highlighting specific interactions and substructures.

Figure C

A graph illustrating the relationship between grid spacing and volume over time, with a clear linear decrease in volume as grid spacing increases.