Figure 2: Stacked bar chart: student responses to questions using a 5 point Likert scale ranging from 1 being “strongly disagree”, 2 being “disagree”, 3 being “neutral”, 4 being “agree” and 5 being “strongly agree”.

- I felt confident making a judgement on my peer’s performance: 5.6% (strongly disagree), 14.6% (disagree), 68.5% (neutral), 3.4% (agree), 10.1% (strongly agree)
- I possess adequate skills to deliver feedback to peers: 12.4% (strongly disagree), 15.7% (disagree), 69.7% (neutral), 62.9% (agree), 44.9% (strongly agree)
- I need training in how to deliver feedback to peers: 5.6% (strongly disagree), 6.7% (disagree), 31.5% (neutral), 13.5% (agree), 44.9% (strongly agree)
- I felt confident providing positive feedback to my peer: 23.6% (strongly disagree), 32.6% (disagree), 62.9% (neutral), 27% (agree), 44.9% (strongly agree)
- I felt confident providing negative feedback to my peer: 11.2% (strongly disagree), 27% (disagree), 44.9% (neutral), 13.5% (agree), 6.7% (strongly agree)
- Providing feedback in the long case was a useful learning activity: 44.9% (strongly disagree), 6.7% (disagree), 31.5% (neutral), 62.9% (agree), 44.9% (strongly agree)