Figure 2: Author interface for creating a rule (or inference) to interpret the significance of clinical data entered by patients. This example uses the 3 operators available: and, or, and not. The set of inferences runs automatically when an interview ends.