The scatter plot shows the avoided referrals (%) for different modalities of telemedicine. The x-axis represents the modality, ranging from 'Store-and-forward' to 'Real-time'. The y-axis represents the percentage of avoided referrals. The plot includes several data points for each modality, with a clear distinction between 'Real-time' and 'Store-and-forward'.