Challenges

- Differing professional education of Canadian and German care providers
- Wordings at risk of being misunderstood
- Phrases/Idioms non-existent in German
- Lack of corresponding German words
- Limited comprehensibility of corresponding German words
- Risk that German translations would become grammatically complex
- Unfamiliarity of target persons with activities detailed in items