Gene copy number vs. Triclosan concentration (µM) and relative transcription level. The graph shows a positive correlation between the two variables, with higher concentrations of Triclosan leading to increased gene copy number and relative transcription level.