Figure 5

The figure shows the prevalence of P. falciparum (pfalc) and P. vivax (pvivax) infections across different age groups. The prevalence peaks in the 5-9 age group for both species. The graph indicates that the prevalence of P. falciparum is significantly higher than that of P. vivax across all age groups.