The graph illustrates the classification error (%) for different search algorithms: SFS, SFFS, PSO, and ABC. The classification error is represented by two sets of bars for each algorithm, denoted as $W^1_R$ and $W^2_R$. The error values are presented for a range of search algorithm stages, with error bars indicating variability. The dashed red line represents a benchmark or reference error rate.