Fig. 2 Gait cycle from a hemiplegic patient (above) and a normal subject (below). Z-axis direction of the sensor on foot was taken as positive angle. The initial contact, toe off could be easily identified.