The graph shows the cumulative proportion of payments or expenditure for personal income tax and corporate tax, with the 45-degree line representing equal distribution. The graph includes a Lorenz curve for personal income tax and another for corporate tax, illustrating the inequality in tax distribution.