Figure 1. Shared space between the medical tourist and informal caregiver

Taken at hospital in India that treats medical tourists, this photo conveys the close physical proximity that is experienced between some medical tourists and their informal caregivers while abroad. The cot on the left is for the friend or family member providing care while the bed on the right is for the patient. (Photo credit: authors)