The diagram illustrates the share of healthcare spending indirectly standardized as a function of rank. The concentration curve is represented by a dashed line, while the line of equality is depicted as a solid line. The y-axis represents the share of healthcare spending, while the x-axis represents the rank.