Figure S3

The figure shows a comparison of relative expression levels between normal and tumor samples. The y-axis represents the relative expression level, ranging from 0 to 1.2. The x-axis indicates the two conditions: normal and tumor. The bar graph indicates a significantly higher expression level in the normal condition compared to the tumor condition.
Figure S4

normal oral squamous cell

MKN-45

THP-1

5q33

GAPDH