Figure 3 Three domain core HrQoL model (Child and Adolescent self report)

My height prevents me from doing things that other children my age do
Because of my height I have problems everyday
Because of my height I have more trouble reaching things than others my age
Because of my height I depend others
I have to look up at others my age when I talk to them
It bothers me that others my age can go on fairground rides and I can’t

Being asked about my height at school bothers me
I feel small around others my age
Others mistake me for being younger than I am
Because of my height I get laughed at or teased
Because of my height I am treated differently
My height is the only thing others notice about me
Because of my height I have problems getting the clothes I like
It hurts to be left out of things because of my height

Because of my height I feel different from others my age
I am fed up with comments about my height
Because of my height I am shy
I am happy with my height
I am insecure because of my height
I am sad because of my height
Despite my height I feel comfortable with the way I am
My height bothers me

Physical domain

Social domain

Emotional domain

Total HrQoL