Fig. 1 Post-operative specimen and its HE staining of the maxillary sinus carcinoma. A. Post-operative specimen of carcinoma of maxillary sinus; B. HE staining of carcinoma of maxillary sinus. The tumors are composed of small-sized regular cells which are arranged in broad sheets, nests, and cords. Many of the cells contain cribriform nuclei with a fine reticular chromatin pattern and small amounts of cytoplasm.