The number of spermiating toads over different hours post-induction is shown in the bar graph. The graph indicates that the peak number of spermiating toads occurs between 5 and 10 hours post-induction, with a gradual decrease thereafter.