The image shows a bar chart comparing the average attrition rates for different categories of health staff across Provincial General Hospitals, District Hospitals, and Health Centers. The categories include Doctors, Clinical Officers, Registered Nurses, Enrolled Nurses, Lab staff, and Pharm. staff. The rates vary significantly across these categories and between different types of hospitals. For example, Doctors have the highest attrition rate overall, with Provincial General Hospitals having the highest rate of 14.3%.