Figure 2: Health care utilized by the deceased whose relatives reported that they received some type of treatment between final illness onset and death (n=819).

* The proportions across the different type of care/health facility sought do not add up to 100% because many individuals visited more than one type of health care/service during illness in the period leading to death. “Other places” includes hospices.