The graph shows the mean minutes spent in two activities (locomotion and play, inactive socialising) across different age groups (10 to 14 years). The line with circles represents locomotion and play, while the line with filled circles represents inactive socialising. The trend indicates a decrease in minutes spent in locomotion and play with age, while inactive socialising shows an increase.