Figure 1b. Causal model for environmental influences created during the CPPE workshop.

*please note that in the CPPE process, causal models are not the same as typical scientific diagrams. They are used to provoke visual representations by community members and may be hypothesis generating. They are not intended to be scientific diagrams that propose testable causal pathways. This diagram is as written by the community members.