Figure 2 - Diagram of genetic algorithm process. Initial population of chromosomes randomly created, the fitness is determined for each chromosome, parents are selected according to their fitness and, reproduced by pairs and the product is mutated until next generation is completed to perform the same process until stop criterion is satisfied.