A graph showing the normalized intensity of ZnO and Zn before and after oxidation. The graph plots 2θ (degrees) on the x-axis and normalized intensity (a.u.) on the y-axis. The red line represents the data after oxidation, and the blue line represents the data before oxidation.