latter case the mobile router is allowed to find an alternative multi-hop path using the WLAN even if the node is moving away. This variation is only possible while the mobile router is connecting to the RSU via a multi-hop path shorter than a certain threshold (called $t_{\text{multihop}}$). Note that in the rest of SILVIO operation modes that is not