Fig. 5. $\phi_i$ is the heading of node $i$.

Fig. 6. Once nodes know the global coordinate system, they can transform the bearing information measured in their local coordinate systems ($\theta_{ij}$ and $\theta_{ji}$) into bearing information in the global coordinate system ($\Theta_{ij}$ and $\Theta_{ji}$).