The diagram illustrates the relationship between the number of gateway nodes and power consumption for different bandwidths:

- B = 50 kbps (represented by + symbols)
- B = 10 kbps (represented by × symbols)
- B = 5 kbps (represented by * symbols)

The x-axis represents the number of gateway nodes, while the y-axis represents power consumption in watts.