The chart illustrates the standard deviation in radians for different numbers of sensors, comparing additive noise only (no calibration error) and additive noise and calibration error. The lines represent STFD Music and SOS Music, with the latter showing a slightly lower standard deviation in most cases.