Figure 3. Adjusted met need means for women with relatively more power (solid lines) and women with relatively less power (dotted lines) at pretest and posttest, per site and literacy level, and significance of changes.