The image shows three graphs comparing carbohydrate intake changes between Baseline and Δ for three different conditions: EXFS, EX, and CON. Each graph indicates a decrease in carbohydrate intake from Baseline to Δ, with the CON condition showing the least change compared to the other two conditions.