- Explain what public health is
- Organise information to answer key public health questions
- Promote consistency in describing public health
- Improve data capture processes and the quality of reporting
- Contribute to higher-level classification and standards activities
- Structure and design information and communications
- Audit the spread of activity across the public health business cycle
- Build models of good public health practice
- Link research, policy and practice