Figure 2: Graph showing face rubbing after pIONL. The graph plots the duration of face rubbing (in seconds) against days post-operation. The graph includes four different groups: WT pIONL, WT Sham, KOR-/- pIONL, and KOR-/- sham. The data is represented with error bars indicating the standard deviation. The peak of face rubbing is observed on day 1 for the WT pIONL group.