Figure S1. The diversity analysis of compounds used in experiments in terms of Tanimoto coefficient calculated for each pair of structures in the dataset. Blue circles represent maximum value of this parameter, red – minimum one, and green – the average value over the whole set.