Figure 3. Scatter plot showing individual differences in activation in the medial prefrontal cortex (mPFC) for the regulate negative > look negative contrast based on global sleep quality scores for the PSQI. Worse sleep predicted less mPFC cluster reactivity ($b = -0.190, p = .03$). Filled circles indicate participants who reported using sleep medication within the last month.