Additional file 4: Search Strategy overview and table for MEDLINE: Immigrant women’s maternity care experiences in Canada

The following databases will be searched: Ovid Medline In process and 1948-, Ovid Embase, Ovid
PsycINFO, EBSCOhost CINAHL, Thompson Reuters Web of Science, Scopus 1960-, and CSA Sociological Abstracts. Databases were chosen based upon their coverage of the health sciences (Medline, Embase, PsycINFO, CINAHL) and their inter-disciplinary coverage (Web of Science, Scopus, Sociological Abstracts) since this topic may be of interest to health and social science researchers. The search strategy was designed and implemented by a health sciences librarian (TC).
The search strategy had six main concepts: maternal health services, accessibility to health services for pregnant women, cultural appropriateness of health services, pregnancy and birth outcomes, immigrants, and Canada. A search strategy using appropriate commands, subject headings, and key words was developed and adapted for each of the databases. No language restrictions were used in the search so that both English and French language items would be retrieved. Only literature published from 1995 onwards was retrieved.
