Polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbon (PAH)

Initial attack by bacterial oxygenases

Loss of partially degraded intermediates from the cell

Further degradation by another bacterial species

Biosurfactant increases the bioavailability of PAH

Biosurfactant-producing bacterium, not directly involved in catabolism

Growth enhancing metabolites

Fungal production of exo-enzymes