Fig. 4. The OCT (Optical Coherence Tomography) scan of the left eye at initial presentation. There was some thickening of the RPE layer with the inflammation of the optic nerve head with oedematous and blurred margins.