The graph shows the probability of survival over months, comparing individuals with DCR and those without DCR. The probability of survival for individuals with DCR is significantly higher than those without DCR, as indicated by the 'p<0.0001' statistic. At 24 months, the probability of survival is 33.8% for DCR patients compared to 0% for those without DCR.