The graph shows the MVC peak torque (N.m) for the quadriceps and hamstrings muscles in individuals with osteoarthritis and control groups. The black bars represent the control group, while the white bars represent the osteoarthritis group. There is a significant difference (*) in the MVC peak torque between the two groups.